[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ATLANTA, Sept. 17.—The Senate to-day took up the message of the Governor regarding the action of the Senate declaring the seats of colored members vacant. The Governor protests against the action of the Senate as unconstitutional and in opposition to the spirit of the Convention which framed the State Constitution under the Reconstruction acts, claiming that the electors were judges of the qualifications of the persons elected to represent them, and assuming that if all male inhabitants of the State had a free voice and place in the new State government, the majority would keep it in harmony with the national administration, and where all could enjoy equal civil and political rights there would be no just cause for dissatisfaction. The House today passed by a vote of 101 to 19 a substitute to the jury bill, which places grand and petit jurors on the same footing and permits none but intelligent and upright persons to sit on juries, and excludes negroes from the jury box.

The London Times on the Elections in England and America—Celebration of the Baptism of the Grecian King Prohibited by the Turkish Government—Arrest of the Greek Attache of the American Legation.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ENGLAND.

LONDON, September 17.—The Times contrasts the political canvass of Great Britain with that of the United States. In both cases the elections are new ones. Here in England there are many contests, differing in men and principles, and the result is a confused hubbub, in which no one sound is heard above the rest. Incidents thus far have been peaceful, even negative, but the eight weeks remaining before the election may warm the contest now so quiet.

The Times dwells on the violent animation of the Presidential fight in the United States. It calls an American election an American carnival. The American people may be serious and interested, but they allow most eccentric and grotesque characters to represent the whole people, which does them some injustice, but less harm than commonly thought.

Benjamin Morgan, the Secretary of the American Legation, has gone on a special mission to St. Petersburg. He also carries a dispatch to the American Embassy at Berlin. Mr. Bancroft, American Minister at Berlin, is traveling in South Germany.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Meeting in the Sixteenth Ward.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the citizens of the Sixteenth ward, was held last evening, at their new speakers' stand in the lower part of the ward. The meeting was called to order by R. H. Smith, who announced the following officers:

President—A. B. Boul.

Vice Presidents—James McKay, Mr. Preatsch, Robert Watson, Dr. Ewing, J. W. Over, William Robb, J. C. Stewart, Andrew Kloman, Louis List, Samuel King.

The Lawrenceville Glee Club opened the meeting by singing a very humorous song, entitled "Mr. Bartt and his Rattan," which was loudly applauded.

While the Club was singing, the Sixteenth Ward Grant and Colfax Club arrived on the ground, equipped with caps, capes and torches. The Club is one of the largest in the city and last night turned out seventy marching men, making a very fine appearance.

B. F. Lucas, Esq., being loudly called for, came forward and began his remarks by asking the Democrats present if they had heard from Maine? He then, in a very humorous manner, explained to the meeting the Democratic plan of taxation, which caused great laughter and embodied rather an expensive and ridiculous style. The bond question was then handled in a very able manner and gave great satisfaction. This question is considered, by the Democracy, a very important and intricate matter, but he thought the Republican party was fully able to carry it through on their own platform, and thought the Democratic manner was a great deal like Slaymaker's bull and the locomotive, their plack was good but their judgment very bad.

The speaker then stated that greenbacks and bonds was not the question before the American people, but it was just as our great leader, U. S. Grant, had, in a very few words in his letter of acceptance, said, it is whether we shall have peace or whether our people shall be plunged into another wicked, fierce and bloody war, which was inevitable in the event of the election of Seymour and Blair. All their speeches and letters were full of expressions and sentiments for war, and it was prompted and urged on by such men as Hampton, Pillow, Forrest & Co. He then paid a high tribute to the combined action of the war Democrats of this community in coming forward and assisting us in raising Grant and Colfax the highest office at the disposal of the American people. He urged the people to go on with the work earnestly, and make our victory greater than that in Maine and Vermont. His whole speech was full of humor and kept the crowd in closest attention, and at times created the wildest laughter.

The Lawrenceville Glee Club again sang a good song in their best style, entitled "Seymour, Blair & Co."

Hon. Russell Errett then came forward and began his address by wondering if the coldness of the weather was caused by the chilly influence of the news from Maine upon the Democracy. He had been listening all evening for the hundred guns they proposed firing to-night in honor of their great victory. The difference between the candidates for office nominated by the Chicago and New York Conventions was then laid before the meeting in a plain and forcible manner. He paid a high tribute to the character of Grant and Colfax, in comparing their plain and unassumed conduct with the vile and threatening expressions of Seymour and Blair. The actions of Grant and Seymour during the war were then compared in an able manner from the breaking out of the war down to the surrender at Vicksburg. Just at the time Seymour was denouncing in New York the war as a failure, then while Grant was manipulating the unconditional surrender of Lee at Richmond, Seymour was holding forth again in the same place; again denouncing the war as a great failure and urging the Democracy of New York to come forward and put an end to this useless war.

He closed his very eloquent and able speech with again urging the people to go on with their work with renewed efforts, determined to make the victory in November great and glorious; worthy of the man who is leading us on to the fight, and make this political war the last we will have to fight with Copperhead Democracy.

With three rousing cheers for Grant and Colfax, the meeting adjourned.

Rallying of the Forces in Allegheny, Mass Meeting in the Diamond.

One of the largest meetings since the opening of the campaign was held last evening at the Republican Headquarters in the Allegheny Diamond, and, such was the enthusiastic spirit which animated those in attendance, that, notwithstanding the disagreeable chilliness of the evening, the audience remained in undiminished numbers until the adjournment of the meeting. The music of the occasion was furnished by Smith's Brass Band ably seconded by the Allegheny Glee Club under the leadership of Prof. W. H. Slack.

An organization was effected at half past seven o'clock by the election of the following officers:

President—Hon. Robt. M'Knight.

Vice Presidents—John P. Ingam, Wm. P. Price, S. W. M'Ginness, J. C. Patterson, W. Krebs, A. Davidson,

Mr. M'Knight, on taking the chair, thanked the audience for the compliment paid him, and made an address of considerable length on the issues of the day, which elicited great applause.

At the conclusion of Mr. McKnight's speech, the Allegheny Glee Club sang two humorous and patriotic songs in an effective style, after which A. M. Watson, Esq., was introduced. Mr. Watson dwelt on the reconstruction policy of Congress, the bond question, and the record of the two parties. His remarks occupied some time, and were frequently interrupted with cheers.

Colonel J. M. Thompson, of Butler county, was the next speaker. He took up the various questions at present agitating the public mind, and argued them in an able and convincing manner, which seemed to meet with the approbation of the audience, who manifested their feelings in vociferous and hearty applause.

At the conclusion of Mr. Thompson's remarks the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax.

Archibald Wasson was placed on trial on an indictment for the larceny of a sum of money from John Young. The money was taken from a trunk in the prosecutor's boarding house, in the Twelfth ward. The amount stolen was stated to be $200. After being arrested, and whilst being taken to the tombs, the prisoner was suspected of throwing away money, and some $12 or $14 were found, which he subsequently admitted that he had thrown away. On trial at adjournment.

An Old Merchant Dead.

Jacob Forsythe, Esq., whose funeral is to take place to-day, was for many years among the most energetic and enterprising merchants in this city. Anterior to the day of canals and railroads, he was very largely engaged in the commission and forwarding trade of the city, enjoying a correspondence widely extended over the Western States. He was at one time also extensively connected with the carrying trade by steamboats of this city. He passed through all the revulsions and depressions, financial and commercial, of the last forty years. Shaken very severely by heavy losses in 1837-'40, he nevertheless manfully bore himself up against them all. He was a clear-headed, far-seeing, sagacious business man, whom no reverses could subdue, but by energy and perseverance triumphed over every obstace, and at his death was in independent circumstances. He had, owing to infirmities of age, retired from active business for the past year or two, relieved by his sons from all cares and anxieties. Mr. Forsythe will be remembered by many of the older merchants of our Western towns and cities as a leading merchant of this city. They all, in common with his cotemporaries of the present and past in this city, will lament his unexpected death.

Consolidation.—The union of the two lines of steamboats running between this city and Brownsville is talked of, and it is quite probable that the negotiations now pending in regard to the matter will result in a consolidation. Heretofre there has been quite a rivalry between the companies which has been rather injurious, not only to their interests but to those of the public traveling that way. There is a large amount of business and travel done in this direction which with proper care and attention might be still more increased.

AMERICA TO THE WORLD.

"You cannot be too decided or too explicit in making known to the French Government that there is not now, nor has there been, nor will there be ever the least idea existing in this Government of suffering a dissolution of this Union to take place in any way whatever. There will be here only one nation and one Government, and there will be the same Republic and the same Constitutional Union that have already survived a dozen national changes and change of government in almost every other country. These will stand hereafter as they now are, objects of human wonder and human affection."—WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

I.
Tell them this Union, so great, cannot sever,
Though it may tremble beneath the rude shock;
As it hath lived, so shall it live forever,
Strong as the mountain oak, firm as the rock.

II.
Others have fallen—are falling around us;
Dynasties tremble and sink to decay;
But the great heart whose stony fetters have bound us
Never has throbbed as it's throbbing to-day.

III.
Let them not deem in a moment of weakness
We can surrender our birthright and name—
Strike the old flag and with patience and meekness,
Bear the foul blot on our hardly earned fame.

IV.
Dumb be the tongue that would tell the foul story,
Blighted the brain could conceive it in sin;
Crushed be the heart that would tarnish the glory
And honor our country hath striven to win.

V.
Ever and ever our flag shall be streaming,
Adding new glories of stripes and of stars;
Though the sword glancing and bayonet gleaming,
Tell us of treasons, corruptions and wars.

VI.
Soon shall our land, to its old peace returning,
Spring to the duties that make nations great;
And while in very heart valor is burning,
Calmly and bravely her des'iny wait.
—Vanity Fair, May 18 1861.

—The young Marquis of Bute has just come of age and into an income of $1,500,000 a year. He is considered pretty well off, even for a Marquis.

—The foot of the Venus de Medici is in length one-seventh the height of the whole figure, and in width one-eighteenth the height of the whole figure.

—Governor Fenton, of New York, is said to have a beautiful young niece who has been three times divorced and for the fourth time is engaged to be married.

—Rochester, New York, has two base ball clubs, rejoicing in the names of "Early Birds" and "Unfortunate Worms." We suppose the former always catch the Worms out.

—Young ladies, attention! West Point Cadets say there have been but four pretty girls there this season. Now if all the girls who go there next season would devote themselves exclusively to the civilians then the Cadets would be well repayed for their insolence.

—No notice has been taken of the snubbing given by young Cavaignac to the Prince Imperial, and he is to be allowed to go to school just as if nothing had happened.

—The Illinois hermit, who formed the subject of a lengthy sensation article in the Chicago papers recently, is dead. His daughter has been induced to undergo a scouring and feels better.

—The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Communion in Chicago, is now being moved from Wabash avenue and Randolph street to Burnside street, under the supervision of twelve men.

—About as mean a joke as the most inveterate joker can get off is to publish an announcement of a marriage which has never taken place. The person who perpetrates such a deed deserves ostracism and a booting.

—There was $180,000 worth of insurance on the buildings and goods destroyed by the great fire in Gloucester, N. J., on Monday. The loss of the Gloucester Manufacturing Company is probably about $70,000 exclusive of insurance.

—The following joke was intended for the Boston Post before the election in Maine. It was delayed until Tuesday, and so lost much of its sarcasm. "A fellow who was hired to march in radical processions at Portland for $1,50 a night, can't collect his pay and is in trouble."

—A grand Republican mass meeting was held in Philadelphia on Tuesday night, and Mayor McMichael, Senator Sherman, Gen. Dan. Sickles, Col. Wm. B. Mann, John W. Forney, Wm. D. Kelley, Charles O'Neill, Gen. Owens, and Edward McPherson, all made speeches at the different stands along Broad street and at the Union League.

—Mazzini has a fine new idea quite visionary enough for the maddest enthusiast alive. He wants the Poles to establish a republic embracing Poland, Greece and Turkey in Europe. The Poles, who can't keep their own lands and fight among themselves about who is to have it when they get it, are to take and consolidate these three kingdoms.

—There are at present in Berlin sixty-one political, social and official papers; one hundred and thirty-seven news, scientific, religious, art and entertaining journals, and fifty-three agricultural, commercial, industrial and advertising papers. At the end of the reign of Federick the Great, in the year 1785, there were only one daily paper, two tri-weekly, two weekly and one monthly.

—The Republicans of Cincinnati have been celebrating the victory in Maine. On Tuesday night they had a procession of over five thousand torches and more than two miles long. Every minute rockets and Roman candles were discharged, a dozen bands of music filled the air with melody, and two or three batteries kept firing second guns. The procession so jubilant, proceeded to the Market Square, where from a couple of stands congratulatory speeches were made by various distinguished gentlemen.

—It always has been fashionable to be wicked, and especially wicked men always win more or less of admiration and applause. But it was left for this, the seventh decade of the nineteenth century, to produce the spectacle now apparent in New York. Preachers, Elders, reputed Christians, go daily, to one of the most disreputable haunts of vice in the great city. There they meet vicious men and women, the worst devotés of Satan, and one man whose open boast has been that he is the wickedest man in New York. Singing and preaching, and perhaps praying, are reported by the religious press to have been going on there, but the police papers hint that the great under current of New York life regards it as an immense joke and the place is thronged constantly. The sensation, transformation drama does well enough on the stage for those who like it, but is it necessary to bring such a combination of farce, flash, transformation, sin and shame into religion? We do not think so. We believe the whole thing is a grievous mistake, and are glad that such men as Henry Ward Beecher and S. Tyng, Jr., refuse to have anything to do with it.

English Elections.

Considerable attention has recently been directed in England to the course of a lady who, owning a large landed estate, sent the following laconic letter to each of her tenants: "Sir, I request you will vote for my father, J. W. S. Erle Drax, Esq., on receipt of this." Contrasted with this curt command, the English journals cite a recent letter of Earl Russell to his tenants, and a letter of the same character from the present Duke of Wellington, written in 1865. Russell says that, as landlord, he has no claim to his tenants' votes, which should be cast according to their own opinions. The Duke of Wellington writes that the exercise of the right to vote is a trust imposed for the advantage of the country, and the responsibility for using it rests with the tenant. The old theory that a man can do what he pleases with his own and disposses his tenants for not voting according to the directions of the landlord, does not find many advocates now in England. In fact, the stringent laws against corruptions in elections should also forbid this kind of bribery.

A RUSSIAN PRISONER of the last Polish insurrection has been publishing his story. He says that sometimes the electric battery was used by the police to extort confession. Then there was the torture of the herring. Prisoners were fed upon salted herrings until the proper agony of thirst was produced, when they would be brought before the commissioners. The sittings were usually at night, in a splendidly lighted apartment, with refreshments of all kinds temptingly displayed on the side tables. The President would usually be most gracious. "By-and-by," he would say, "we will, if you like, ask you to have something to drink with us." The fever and the vertigo caused the prisoners to lose their reason, and they generally yielded.

—Advices from Havti state that an amnesty had been proclaimed in favor of all but the leaders in the late rebellion. A priest had made the offer to surrender Miragoane to Solnave's forces. The Cacos were concentrating their forces to arrest the new movement in favor of Solnave. It is probable the whole South will return to Solnave, should Gonalves and Cape Haytien fall, but fears are entertained that the north will secede and form an independent government.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is falling rapidly at this point with scant six and a half feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening, against eight feet on Wednesday evening: Weather continues cloudy and cold.

The R. C. Gray from Cincinnati, and Bayard from Parkersburg constitute the arrivals. The Gray had a good freight list including a considerable quantity of metal.

The J. N. McCullough did not get off on Wednesday evening as expected. She left last evening, however, with an excellent trip.

The Messenger in charge of Capt. Wm. Dean left for St. Louis last evening with a very good trip. She would have laid over until to-day had it not been for the rive going down so rapidly.

The Ida Reese No. 2, in charge of Capt. James Rees Jr., is now at the landing loading for Cincinnati, and Louisville.

The Echo left for Kanawha River on Wednesday in charge of Capt. Ford, an old Kanawha River boatman. Hereafter she is to be engaged in towing salt out of that stream to Nashville and St. Louis.

The Bayard departed for Parkersburg on time with a fair trip.

Capt. Reed will not load the Kate Putnam at present, not feeling disposed to enter the ring with a falling river, and cheap freights, staring him in the face.

The Glasgow is loading at Cincinnati for Pittsburgh.

When the Messenger and Camelia meet below, they will change commanders. Capt. Wm. Dean will take charge of the Camelia, and Capt. Jesse Dean will assume command of the Messenger.

—Suit has been filed against the Great Republic, by Sherley Woolfolk & Co., of Louisville, for stores supplied; amount claimed, $1,334.

—The Argosy, Capt. Lew Vandergrift, is on her way back from Lagrange Landing, Tennessee river, above Fort McHenry, with 600 tons iron ore.

—The Bostona run into the towboat Alps, Sunday night, at Brush creek, and mashed the wheel of the latter somewhat. The damage was slight.

—The owners of the Sallie V, which boat is plying between Evansville and Henderson in opposition to the Mollie Norton, have reduced the rates on freight 25 cents per 100 pounds, and passage to 25 cents. Good for the public, but death to steamboats.

—The Cincinnati Enquirer pays the New York the following back-handed compliment: The New York, after lying at the wharf for something less than a week, left for Pittsburgh with a starving trip This boat is managed on the "shent per shent" principle, and it is not astonishing that she makes no money for her owners.

—The Wild Duck and barges, Swan and Dove left Cincinnati on Tuesday for St. Louis, with 66 men and horses of the 5th U. S. Cavalry, 47½ tuns of water-pipe, from Gaylord's foundery, and 150 pkgs, furniture. She takes a lot of Government freight at Jeffersonville. Pilots—Leander Patterson and Mike Myers.

—After the successful launch of Capt. Scott's new steamer Wabash, at Evansville, on Saturday, Andy Hutchinson in a short speech, paid a tribute to the energy and enterprise of Capt. Scott, who, since his residence in Evansville, had paid to the boatbuilders and ship carpenters over $120,000 for building boats at that point.

—Says the Cincinnati Commercial, of Wednesday: The Yorktown left the Marine Ways Wharf for Pittsburgh. Captain Ebert and Geo Poe are at the wheel. The New York left for the same port with 100 tuns of cotton, corn lard oil, pig metal, &c., and receives 200 tons iron additional at Ironton. Pilots—Wm. Goslee and Chas. Bobo.

—Mr. Stephen Morse has sold the Peerless as she now lies at Little Rock, to Capt. J. P. Forgey, for the Arkansas trade, for $15,000, provided she is as represented here. Mr. Morse and Capt. Forgey leave for Little Rock together, during the present week, to examine the Peerless. In the meantime Mr. Morse designs disposing of his interest in the steamers Hesper and Florence Traber, now in Arkansas River.

—The Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial telegraphs as follows under date of Tuesday: The tow boat Sam. Brown, with barges of iron ore for Louisville, struck the steamer Abeona, bound for St. Louis, with a full load of merchandise, this morning at three o'clock, at Cottonwood Bar, near Paducah, tearing off the guard and cook-house of the Abeona, and completely demolishing her starboard engines. Adam Spreht, a German deck-passenger, wife and two children were asleep on the guards of the Abeona when the Brown's barge struck her. Both children were knocked overboard, and have not been seen since. The mother's skull was smashed so as to make death inevitable. Chas. Roe, another passenger, was severely but not fatally injured. Spreht and wife were put ashore at Paducah for medical attendance. They were bound for Waterloo, Ill., where their relatives reside. The Abeona came here on one engine, and will wait until a new one comes from Cincinnati.

THE VERY latest intelligence from Maine, received at one o'clock this morning, confirms the Republican majority at 20,000. The gain is more than nine thousand over last year's majority and seven thousand in excess of the average majority in that State for the past twelve years.

MR. REVERDY JOHNSON is half right. He withholds his moral support from SEYMOUR and BLAIR. He and all others who perceive serious perils to be involved in the election of those gentlemen ought, in justice to their convictions, to cast the full weight of their influence for GRANT and COLFAX,

THE Kittanning Free Press compliments us by copying a recent elaborate article from the GAZETTE entitled "Figures for the People," and, in addition, calls the special attention of its readers thereto; so far well. But, following its settled habit towards us, it fails to give the GAZETTE credit; which is not so well.

THE REPUBLICANS of Philadelphia made a magnificent demonstration on Tuesday evening, when they turned out near thirty thousand strong, and were addressed, from four different stands, by a half score of eloquent and popular speakers. That city and county will be heard from in October and November, as in 1866. Stick a pen there!

MR. WADE, President of the Senate, and Mr. COLFAX, Speaker of the House of Representatives, passed through the city last evening on their way to Washington, to be present at the re-assembling of Congress. While here they expressed the opinion that little or no business would be done by the Houses, but that a recess would be taken to the 15th of October.

THE Democracy demand that the real estate of Pennsylvania, which was valued in 1861 at $1,416,501,818, and which the Republicans have exempted from State taxation, shall be placed on the duplicate again and be subject to State and Federal taxes. The National Banks of this State, with fifty millions of capital, paid over two hundred thousand dollars of taxes last year, while the real estate paid nothing. Under the new Democratic scheme of taxation, the banks would have only one-twenty-ninth of this sum, say $7,000, to pay, and the other $193,000 would be assessed on the farmers and lot-owners. What say the people to that?

FROM all parts of Pennsylvania we have the most enspiriting accounts of Republican demonstrations. The preliminary work of organization having been accomplished, the labor of publicly discussing the issues involved in the election has been taken hold of in an admirable manner. There is much less rant and froth in the speakers than has often been devolved. A thoroughness and power is evinced quite unusual. This is emphatically well. The hustings are the political common schools of the Republic, and the higher the tone of the discussions prevailing there the better. What the masses want is not so much to be amused, but to have the facts and principles upon which they are to act set forth with truthfulness, cogency and exactness. Let the good work proceed.

MAINE—AND ITS LESSONS.

Our latest report from Maine places the Republican majority at twenty-three thousand three hundred and sixty. The full official returns will increase rather than diminish these figures. Our friends have polled nearly nine thousand votes more than ever before, and, while retaining all the Congressmen, have gained three Senators and eleven Representatives in the Legislature.

This extraordinary result has cheered the hearts of all friends of the Union beyond expression. Confident, as all have been, of the inevitable success of our ticket in November, there remained no doubts to remove, no hesitation to re-assure. The effect has been to inspire Republicans everywhere, and especially in the great States of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, which are next to wheel into line, with fresh resolution to spare no lawful exertions for securing the triumphs which await them, on a full vote.

And in this way the opposition are also consoled:

Maine can give but seven electoral votes, no matter what her majority may be, and Democrats were never deluded with the idea that they could obtain them. So it is all preposterous gasconade to fire one hundred guns, burn blue-fire or grow hoarse over a Republican majority in Maine; it would be quite as reasonable to crow over a similar result in Allegheny county.—Pittsburgh Post.

It will take time for the knowledge why their chief interest is ruined, and all their industries crippled, to filter way down East through all the rest of New England. It will get there at last, even though no newspapers save the Boston Journal should be read in MAINE, and though none but Yankees and Blue-noses should ever travel the highways and railroads. * * * The people of no other State, unless it be Florida, are so little in communication with their fellow countrymen as the people of MAINE.—N. Y. World.

This is cool! "Democrats were never deluded with the idea of carrying Maine." Why, then, have they lavished almost superhuman efforts upon that canvass? They may reply that it was with the hope of reducing our majorities, and thereby encouraging their friends elsewhere, and especially their candidate, whose despairing wail was heard by the people in his Ingersoll letter. But this won't do! Their "delusion" was precisely this, that they hoped to wipe out entirely the eleven thousand Republican majority of last year by their own increased poll, and the anticipated effect upon the Republicans of their artful misrepresentations of questions of finance and taxation. In this they now realize the extent of their "delusion." The Republican people of Maine were too intelligent to be deceived, and too patriotic to be indifferent.

Every Democratic speech made by PENDLETON and COX made additional Republican votes: And here we take the time and place to say that the same thing holds true in every other State, as well in Pennsylvania as elsewhere. Every proposition presented by Democratic orators and presses, relative to bonds, greenbacks and taxation, has been effectively and conclusively shown to be a fallacious humbug. All the issues which they have made in that direction are now so thoroughly vindicated and understood by every intelligent Republican in the Union, that every day of their further discussion damages Democratic prospects, and strengthens the Union party. The most politic thing they can do, for their own partizan interests, is to drop the whole matter, as played-out and re-acting injuriously upon themselves, and, taking BLAIR'S advice even at this late hour, confine their electioneering for the rest of the canvass to the real issue, upon the legislative powers of Congress and the Democratic proposition for a Presidential dictatorship. Not that we desire, however, to discourage you, gentlemen, from continuing your good work of making Republican votes. It is disinterested advice that we offer you, and we expect, as usual, no thanks for it. Go ahead with your fol-de-rol about bonds and greenbacks, if you will persist in it; drive off yet more of your honest and intelligent voters in disgust, to enroll themselves permanently in the Union ranks; you will only succeed in retaining the ignorant, reckless and violently prejudiced voters, whom the power of no argument or the light of no truth can deprive you of; keep these as long as you will, for we don't want them, so long as we can continue to glean from you all that you have that is worth having. We are thus gaining every hour by your own blundering policy. We have gained enough from you already to ensure you a disastrous defeat. It is this which gives us 9,000 more votes in Maine than we ever cast before, and it is this which is to make Pennsylvania a stronger Republican State than ever.

The World sneers at the ignorance and narrow-minded selfishness of the people of Maine. The contrast is indeed a strong one, between that benighted population and the refined, cultivated and thoroughly educated Democracy of the New York Five Points and Mackerelville, or of any other locality which, here or there, contributes the mass of the Democratic vote. When a Democratic journal can console itself by that reflection, the case may well be pronounced a desperate one.

"DEMOCRATIC GAINS."

Some of our Democratic friends were whistling in the grave-yard yesterday. It is not the old fashioned Democratic method of keeping up courage; the precedents in that party recommend rather wetting the whistle than blowing it. But as all signs fail in a dry time, so all rules must give way in this unprecedented season of Democratic terror and distress.

"Eleven thousand of Democratic gains in Maine;" "Republican majority not over seventeen thousand"—such was the refrain of the opposition music yesterday. Let them whistle that to the marines; it will do for "Bull Run" or the "Old Battery," or wherever the Democratic voters make their mark, but has no effect among people who can read and write. The vaunted "gains" are figured up on the Democratic vote of last year, while the figures given for the Republican majority of Monday are altogether fabricated.

Now, mark this, friends! The highest vote ever given in Maine for a Democratic ticket was that of 51,378 in 1860; the highest votes ever given in that State for the Union ticket were 69,469 in 1860 and 69,716 in 1866. The votes of last Monday did not vary one thousand from 55,000 for the Democrats, and 78,000 for the Union, in round numbers, a Democratic increase from their highest previous figure of less than four thousand, and a Republican increase of about nine thousand. On the fullest poll ever known, we have gained more than two votes to their one. If they burn powder for that, our friends ought to pay the expense.

DEMOCRATIC BRAG.

It is understood all around that the opposition editors and politicians must say something about the Maine election, to let their friends down easily. And, all things considered, it would be unreasonable to expect them to adhere strictly to facts. We submit however, that, when they consider it it necessary to claim "eleven or twelve thousand Democratic gains" in Maine and that the Republican majority is only sixteen or seventeen thousand" they are cutting it rather too fat.

The latest report at this writing, (5 P. M.) as given in the Evening Mail of Thursday, gives the Republicans an official majority of 21,214 in 346 towns; adding that "the 100 towns yet to come in will swell that majority to 22,000." The Portland Argus, a leading Democratic journal of Maine, also concedes 22,000 majority, but consoles itself with the claim that "this majority will fall considerably below the estimate made by the party during the canvass, and thinks the results are satisfactory, as compared with the Radical majorities for several years."

MR. J. G. BLAINE, the Chairman of the State Central Committee of Maine, telegraphs to the following effect:

"The majority in Maine will certainly be over twenty thousand. Do not put any faith in the falsehoods of the opposition, who seek relief from the pressure upon them by endeavoring to show the majority to be much less than the facts warrant."

Let the Democratic whippers-in brag as long and loud as they please. They are careful not to bet. All their cyphering and street-corner brag can no more talk away the hard, inexorable figures which establish the Republican success, than Antonio's friend could rail off the seal from Shylock's bond!

THE WAY TO PRESERVE PEACE.

Whoever has thoughtfully considered the present condition of this country must be convinced that the white inhabitants of the Southern States are much nearer being unanimous in opposition to the Union than they were in 1860; that the Northern Democratic leaders are more fully in sympathy with the principles and purposes of their Southern allies than they were then, and that the Democratic organization in many sections has a decidedly military aspect, and could readily be used for assailing the government.

The way to permanent peace runs through the election of General GRANT. Place him at the head of the government, by the electoral votes not only of a majority of the States, but by the individual suffrages of a decided majority of the people, and the disloyal elements will be effectually rebuked; the Southern agitators will not only be rendered powerless, but will comprehend that their personal well-being demands that they cease the threats of violence with which they now abound, and counsel their followers to devote their energies to restoring the wastes necessarily resulting from the war.

The election of GRANT means peace. The masses of the people so understand it; and have resolved not simply that it shall be accomplished, but that the majorities given for him shall be so large as to shut out all possibility of cavil or debate.

MR. B. M. BOYER, of Montgomery county, Pa., addressed a Democratic meeting in the Fourth ward last evening, and touching in a loose way on the financial question repeated the oft exploded statement that "it has cost our country two hundred and eleven millions of dollars, in addition to the payment of the interest on the national debt, for the ordinary annual expenses of the government in a time of peace, and under Republican administration." Moreover, the speaker stated that "through various sources the people have paid into the national treasury five hundred millions of dollars per year in the three years succeeding the close of the rebellion, and now demanded to know how the money had been squandered." We join in the demand. But Mr. BOYER, who took much pains, once upon a time, to establish a reputation for honesty in this Commonwealth, should look up his figures and discover wherein he makes gross mis-statements and misleads intelligent people who may not take the trouble to examine the official records. If it be squandering of public moneys to discharge part of the principal of a burdensome national debt, to cancel backdues to soldiers and sailors, to pay bounties to brave Union defenders, their orphans and widows, to idemnify loyal localities for losses sustained by the wave of Southern Democracy sweeping in the shape of a rebel army over them, pillaging, destroying and laying waste all within reach—if all these things fall under the term "squandering" we might see the honesty of Mr. BOYER'S indignation over the needless expenditure of the people's money; but until we are convinced that they do, we blush for the mendacity and dishonesty of these rebel-sympathizing talkers who have forgotten how to blush for themselves.

"I'M TOLD that you have left the Democratic party," said an Irishman yesterday to a venerable and highly respected citizen.

"Who are you? What business of yours is it?" was the Doctor's reply, and he added, "Here, sir, I'll bet you $500 you don't know enough to spell the word Hat."

The enlightened Democrat would not bet.

AT PRESENT writing we learn that prominent Democrats in this city received this morning telegraphic dispatches, claiming to be reliable, stating that the Republican majority in the Maine election, as shown by semi-official returns, is 17,466.—Chronicle.

All moonshine!

THE KU-KLUX IN ALABAMA.

A Citizen Forced Into Exile for Republicanism—His Offence the Organization of a Grant and Colfax Club.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

As I have often noticed that the terrorism in the South is made light of, and the reports of outrages committed upon Union men made a subject of ridicule, thus giving, even among our friends, the impression that these reports are untrue, I beg leave to make a simple statement of facts, being myself a victim of Southern violence and outrage.

During the past two years I have been teaching a colored school, under the direction of the Pittsburgh F. A. Commission, at Stevenson, Ala., which is at the junction of the Nashville and Chattanooga and Memphis and Charleston railroads. Nearly two years ago our school house was burned, and last December I was attacked and severely cut with a knife, and only saved my life by breaking the knife in the hand of the assassin. There has been no complaint among the people in regard to my course in any way, only that I was a teacher of the "niggers" and a Republican, or, as they term it, an "Abolitionist." Last Thursday night, a little after midnight, six men on horses, covered with sheets, with red and black cothes on, high white hats, and with masks on their faces, came to the door of my room and aroused me, saying that I must get up and open the door. Friends in an adjoining house came armed to their door ready to assist me if needed; then these midnight outlaws gave back, but came up again, and said I must let them in; but, being armed myself, this I refused to do, and replied that if they would call in the day time, I would talk to them, but would let no man in at that hour of the night. They then said that they understood I was to organize an abolition club on the following Saturday, and that they would "tell me not to do it." I replied that I did not ask any odds of them. They then remarked that they would give me ten days to leave the country, and if I remained longer my "blood would rest on my own head." On Saturday I organized a Grant club, as they already had a Seymour club. In the afternoon of the same day the Seymourites of the place and vicinity met in open meeting on the platform at the depot and unanimously resolved that I must "change my course or my location," thus virtually endorsing the action of the Ku-Klux.

About two weeks since I had a conversation with a prominent Democrat at Stevenson, at which time he told me that prominent Radicals who had influenced the negroes must leave, and if they persisted in remaining they would be killed. The effect of this course upon the negroes will probably be an increased majority for Grant in that section, as many of them now declare that they will vote the Republican ticket or die in the attempt. JAMES NICHOLS.

Pittsburgh, September 17, 1868.

Excursion to Blairsville.

Our readers are aware that a number of gentlemen, officers of various New England railroad companies, guests of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, arrived on a special train of that company, in this city, on Tuesday; that they have visited a number of our principal manufacturing establishments, and looked through and about the city generally. The excursion party left the city on Thursday at nine o'clock A. M. via the Western Pennsylvania branch of the Central road. Those Pittsburghers who joined the party accompanied it to the Blairsville junction and returned thence last evening. The train stopped at the "Fairview Oil Refining Company's works," ten miles from the city, and afforded the party time to inspect that fine establishment, Dr. Herz, the Superintendent, politely explaining the refining process. The train halted also at Natrona, the seat of the Pennsylvania Salt Company's extensive chemical works, where the Superintendent, Henry Pemberton, Esq., with characteristic kindness and patience, conducted the visitors through numerous vast buildings required for the various kinds of chemicals manufactured. Although everything was explained, we doubt whether any of all the visitors could give even a tolerable account of what he saw or what he was told. Mr. Pemberton, as a practical analytical chemist, has no superior in the country. The extent of the works and the variety of its products are far in advance of any other in the United States, and equalled by very few, if any, in Europe. We regret our inability to give a more particular description of this wonderful establishment.

From Natrona the train proceeded onward to Blairsville Junction, stopping only at the "High Bridge," below Saltsburgh, and at the tunnel and viaduct, nine miles below Blairsville, giving opportunity, which was gladly improved by the guests, to visit and inspect these great triumphs of civil engineering.

At the junction, the Pittsburghers took leave of the visiting party and returned, reaching home at 5:40 P. M., while the excursion train proceeded on its way back to New York. The strangers appear to have enjoyed their visit and return with better knowledge and higher appreciation of the great railway and its branches, its admirable construction, its great capacity and its vast business. They will also carry back with them higher notions of the wealth, enterprise and unlimited resources of our State. It cannot but be beneficial to our cities and State when gentlemen of intelligence, engaged in the enterprises and activities of other States visit us and become acquainted with our citizens engaged like themselves in advancing the material interests of the commun ty.

We annex a list (possibly not quite accurate) of the gentlemen composing the excursion party while we accompanied it:

C. C. Gregg, Agent of Norwich and Worcester Line of Steamers; James Dailey, General Ticket Agent of the Boston & Providence Railway; W. J. Phelps, General Ticket Agent of the Connecticut River Railway; Geo. Y. Sanborn, General Ticket Agent of the Concord Railroad, New Hampshire; A. C. Warren, General Ticket Agent of the Northern Railway; Geo. A. Browne, General Ticket Agent of the Cheshire Railway; W. H. Bryant, General Ticket Agent of the Rutland & Burlington Railway, Vermont; W. D. Foley, Cape Cod Railway; G. G. Kidder, Agent of the Merchants Dispatch, Boston; Griffith Williams, Lambertsville, New Jersey; W. J. Van Andale, of the New York & Harlem Railway; R. W. Roberts, Agent of the Pennsylvania Central Railway for New England; Kennedy Marshall, Agent of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railway for New England; Eldridge Wheeler, of Boston; Dr. Geo. Bailey, of Harrisburg; E. H. Williams, of the Pennsylvania Railway, Philadelphia; H. W. Gwinner, of the Pennsylvania Railway, Philadelphia; D. M. Boyd, of the Pennsylvania Railway; W. W. Ross, of the Pennsylvania Railway.

There were also from Pittsburgh, besides the representatives of the press, Messrs. H. Chess, J. L. Piper, of Keystone Bridge Co.; Capt. W. D. Spiking, U. S. A.; John H. Hampton, Esq., Solicitor of Pennsylvania Railroad Company; J. M. Kimball, of Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railway Company; J. Foster Hope, of Allegheny Valley Railroad Company; Dr. Arnold Herz, of Fairview Oil Refining Company, and perhaps some others whose names we did not obtain.

—Lieut. Col. R. W. Kenyon, resident of Troy, died in Boston from the effects of laudanum on Wednesday night. After taking the poison he informed Mr. Pray, the landlord, and said: "I repent of the act. Do all you can to save me." Physicians were immediately called. All the known remedies were applied without avail.

Consolidation—The Republican Candidates for Assembly Interrogated by Citizens of Allegheny—The Correspondence.

The correspondence between the Committee appointed by the citizens of Allegheny, relative to interrogating the Republican candidates for the Legislature on the subject of consolidation, is fully set forth below:

CITY OF ALLEGHENY, August 31, 1868.

To Hon. Geo. Wilson, George F. Morgan, James Taylor, M. S. Humphreys, Vincent Miller and Samuel Kerr, Republican Candidates for Assembly:

GENTLEMEN: At a meeting of the citizens of the City of Allegheny, held on Saturday, August 29th, 1868, the undersigned were appointed a committee to wait on the candidates for the Legislature and request them to say whether they will, if elected, oppose and vote against any bill or measure which may be introduced into the Legislature, having for its object the taking away of the chartered privileges of the City of Allegheny, either wholly or partially, by consolidation either absolute or conditional, with the City of Pittsburgh, until a majority of the citizens of Allegheny shall signify their readiness to relinquish them, we answer that we will.

GEORGE WILSON,
GEORGE F. MORGAN,
JAMES TAYLOR,
MILES S. HUMPHREYS,
VINCENT MILLER,
SAMUEL KERR.

PITTSBURGH, August 31, 1868.

To Messrs. Alfred Slack, J. A. Myler and A. H. English, Committee:

GENTLEMEN: In response to your letter of this date, inquiring whether, if elected, we will oppose and vote against any bill or measure which may be introduced into the Legislature, having for its object the taking away of the chartered privileges of the City of Allegheny, either wholly or partially, by consolidation either absolute or conditional, with the City of Pittsburgh, until a majority of the citizens of Allegheny shall signify their readiness to relinquish them, we answer that we will.

GEORGE WILSON,
GEORGE F. MORGAN,
JAMES TAYLOR,
MILES S. HUMPHREYS,
VINCENT MILLER,
SAMUEL KERR.

Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad.

The Connellsville Railroad Company, which, for so long a time, appeared to be struggling for an existence as a corporation, and against which so many influences have been brought to bear with a view to its ultimate destruction, has, it appears, weathered the storm of opposition. It has attained a position beyond the reach of its enemies and may now be considered as one of the principal railroad companies in the State.

Its success may, in part, be attributed to the great natural advantages it possesses, as the road will, when completed, be the great national thoroughfare from east to west, but it is mainly attributable to the efficiency and energy of its officers. The unfinished portion of the road, between Connellsville and Cumberland, has been re-surveyed and a great portion of it put under contract again, and it is the intention to push the work to completion with all possible speed.

In addition to constructing the new portion of the road, the Company is making many improvements along the line between this city and Connellsville, made necessary by the rapid increase of business both in passengers and freight. Changes, repairs and improvements are also being made on an extensive scale about the depot in this city. The freight depot, which extends from Ross to Try streets, below Water street, has been remodeled so as to allow cars to enter on either side of the platform, and the car yard is being covered with a substantial board floor. The passenger depot is to be enlarged, and men are at work excavating the earth on the upper side for the purpose of laying an additional track from which all trains will start, and the shed is to be extended over it for the protection of passengers in inclement weather. This is a much needed improvement, and one that will meet with hearty commendation from all who travel on the road, as it will avoid the confusion attending the arrival and departure of trains where there is but the track.

DR. SARGENT'S BACKACHE PILLS

Are the most efficient and most popular Diuretic medicine known, removing at once any obstruction of the Kidneys, subduing Inflamation and strengthening the Urinary Organs.

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Have been in use 35 years, and are daily performing wonderful cures. In many instances where patients were unable to walk upright or to rise without assistance, they have been relieved by a single dose.

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Cure all diseases of the Urinary Organs, the symptoms of which are weakness and pain in the back and loins, pains in the joints, difficulty in voiding the urine, general debility, &c.

THE KIDNEYS, BLADDER, &C.,

Are those organs through which most of the waste or worn out particles of the body passes; these worn out and dead particles are poisonous, consequently when these organs are diseased the whole system becomes deranged, and if not relieved at once the result may be fatal.

This much esteemed and most efficient medicine is the only diuretic that is put up in the shape of Pills, and is much more easily taken than the ordinary diuretic draughts, the Pills being sugar coated

HAPPINESS DEPENDS UPON GOOD DIGESTION.

"Weakness of the Stomach" is the source of more evils than were contained in Pandorss' Box. Debility, headache, nervous tremors, palpitation of the heart, and local pains innumerable, are its direct consequences. It obscures the intellect and gives birth to the most absurd and incoherent fancies; it capacitates a man for business, and renders persistent exertion next to impossible. Yet, strange to say, indigestion is the most neglected of all ailments. And this is the more extraordinary from the fact that an absolute, infallible specific for the disorder can be obtained in every city, town and village of the United States.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS takes as wide a range as the malady which it cures. It pervades every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere, and its celebrity as a tonic and alterative is everywhere established. It is due to the common sense of the American public to say that the demand for it is immense, and continually on the increase; but still thousands continue to suffer from dyspepsia, with the great fact staring them in the face that a remedy for it exists, as it were, within arm's length of every sufferer. Such is the inconsistency of human nature! Day by day, however, the number of those who manifest this lasting indifference to their own health and comfort diminishes, and the time will come, it is confidently believed, when the disease will be expelled from the category of prevalent disorders by this incomparable alterative and restorative.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by Dr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipency if application were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings to which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

FINANCE AND TRADE,

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, September 17, 1868.

The scarcity of gold, together with the war rumors from Europe, have stimulated the demand to such an extent that the market advanced ¾ per cent, and 144⅞ was touched to-day; at the close, however lower quotations were made, when it was found out that the war rumors had no foundation. A fierce contest is now going on between the powerful cliques of bull operators for stocks, governments and gold, and the recently formed, but too soon exposed, clique of bears. The bull side seems to have the inside track during an easy money market. Governments were very dull early this morning, but during the day the market become very strong on account of a demand to cover short sales; the investment demand, however, is limited to small amounts, and any size is quickly followed by a corresponding decline.

The stock market is strong, and has materially advanced this afternoon in New York Central, Cleveland, Fort Wayne. The Express shares, are said to be at the beginning of a strong rise. The Northern cliques are holding up preferred to make a greater distinction between the two stocks which would indicate that the limit for the rise has about been reached. Should the war rumors from Europe have any foundation, large sums of money would be withdrawn through the German bankers of New York, and money would further appreciate by large purchases of gold; it is hardly necessary to make any comments on governments or stocks in such a case.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTEE, THURSDAY, September 17, 1868.

CRUDE.

The Crude market was rather quiet today, and the sales, in the aggregate, were comparatively light. Spot oil may be fairly quoted at 11c; we heard of oil having been offered at that figure, and we also heard that there were offers to buy at that price—as a general thing, however, there were but very few buyers at anything above 10¾c. Sales of 2,000 bbls each for October and November at 10¾c; last evening there was a sale of 1,000 bbls, to be delivered between now and April, 1869, seller's option, at 10c, and 1,000 for October, buyer's option, at 11¼c.

REFINED.

The Refined market was again fairly today, the sales aggregating six thousand five hundred barrels, but, as a general thing, prices have still further declined. We can report a sale of 500 bbls to the local trade, standard white, at 26½c; and we are cognizant of a negotiation pending, and which we have reason to believe will be consummated, of one thousand barrels at 26c, free on board cars here. It is a noticeable fact that nearly every steamer leaving here has more or less oil, which is a good omen at this particular time—a little late, but better late than never. The sales for Philadelphia delivery to-day were as follows:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, September 17, 1868.

New York Dry Goods Market.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, September 17.—This being a Jewish holiday, coupled with the recent decline in goods, the market has become quiet and buyers' confidence in prices of cotton fabrics has become so that if goods were now offered, based with cotton at 20c per pound, they would be loth to purchase anything not absolutely required for immediate use, regardless of cost. Lyman E brown sheetings are selling as low as 15c; Bartlett bleached by package, 14¼c, and Smithfield 1 shilling per yard by the case; Allens, Richmonds, Oriental, American and Lancaster prints are selling at 1 shilling. Merrimacks, 13½c, and Cocheco, 14c fo their prints. Amoskeag prints are reduced to 12c; Lowell, 10½c, and Wamsutta 9c. In Colored Cotton, Ginghams or Delaines there is no change. Stiff goods and woolens are generally steady though in less animation than print cloths, but are held with increased firmness under more favorable news from Liverpool, reporting an active market for middling upland cotton.

Brighton Cattle Market.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

BRIGHTON, Sept. 17.—Beef cattle; receipts—1,840 head: sales extra at $11,50a14; first quality at $13a25; second quality at $12a25; third quality at $9,50a11. Working oxen at $155a280 per pair. The Queen's Dairy.

A London correspondent writes:

This morning we had butter for our toast from the Queen's dairy. It was purchased by one of our party yesterday in the dairy at Windsor Castle. The Londoners are very indignant at this meanness of Her Majesty, as they please to call it.

During the long drought, when every blade of grass was turned to a dead brown, and the cattle had no herbage to feed on, milk and butter were scarce, and the famous Devonshire clotted cream could not be found. But we Americans went to headquarters. The model farm laid out and completed under the supervision of the late Prince Consort, is about a mile from Windsor Castle. At the main lodge we received from the daughter of the keeper a permit to visit the dairy.

Approaching a beautiful cottage, as we supposed, in the centre of a large garden, not at the bottom of a hill, under a hazel tree, by a running stream, we could not imagine a dairy on a dry, level plain. But entering the vestibule, lined with marble half way, and frescoed above with beautiful designs, we rang a bell, which was immediately answered by a woman past middle age and neatly dressed, one of the Queen's favorite servants. She ushered us into a room about thirty feet square, the roof supported by six octagonal columns of white marble, with richly carved capitals. The floors were of white procelain tiles, the windows stained glass, bordered with May blossoms, daisies, buttercups and primroses. The floors were lined with tiles of porcelain of a delicate blue tint, with rich medallions inserted of the Queen, Prince Consort, and each of the children. Shields, monograms of the Royal family and bas-reliefs of agricultural designs, representing the Seasons, completed the ornamentation of this exquisite model dairy. All around the walls ran a marble table, and through the centre two long ones, supported by marble posts, resting on basins, through which runs a perpetual stream of spring water. By this means the slabs of table are always cold, and the temperature of the dairy is chill, while the white and gilt china milk and butter dishes resting on the table are never placed in water. We drank the delicious milk, just brought in bright metal buckets, lined with porcelain, the Queen's monogram and crest glittering on the brass plates on the covers. In the room where the butter was made, milk skimmed and strained, we feasted our eyes on the rows of metal porcelain-lined cans of all sizes, made to lock, and sent to the royal family even as far as Scotland; so they always have good milk and butter. The churn was of metal also, and lined with porcelain, made in two compartments. The outside chamber surrounding the cylinder could have warm or cold water poured in to regulate the "coming of the butter" without disturbing the cream. The lid was screwed on, and the stationary stand on which the whole was turned made the work easy and rapid. But while over sixty cows are daily milked and as many more are out grazing, the royal family are more than satisfied and the Londoners more than dissatisfied to see the rolls of golden butter and cans of cream sold from the Model Farm, for saving money for the Queen! I know the butter is sold, for we breakfasted on it this morning, and we paid for it, not as a bribe, but a regular market bargain at the diary.

A Woman Defending the Flag—An Incident in Missouri.

The St. Louis Democrat publishes the following:

"Upon his return from the State Convention, in July last, Major E. G. Evans planted a beautiful little flag-pole in the yard fronting his residence, to the top of which a flag is daily run, inscribed, 'Grant, McClurg, Negro Suffrage,' accompanied by a streamer which displays the word 'Progress.' The sight of the flag seemed to arouse the old slave spirit in the 'crew of the Constitution,' a company of about two hundred men that were employed at three dollars per day each, and sent out from St. Louis to 'demonstrate' at Rolla on last Tuesday.

"A squad of this chivalry halted at the gate and notified Mr. Evans that the flag must be taken down. The commander said that if she did not take it down his men would destroy it; that it was offensive to them and to the Democratic citizens, and that she ought to have known that to have it up on the day of the 'grand rally' would not be tolerated. As Mr. Evans was at that time attending the Congressional Convention at Washington, it devolved upon his lady, a little woman of about one hundred and seven pounds, to protect the little children, the house and the flag. This visit was not unexpected, as she had heard of threats being made earlier in the day. In assuming the defensive, she informed this imported posse of regulation that she would not remove the flag; that if they entered the yard they would have trouble, and that the flag could not be more offensive to them than their yelling for Jeff. Davis before the door was offensive to her. They told her that if she would lower the flag and take off the words 'negro suffrage' she would not be interrupted, and the flag would be permitted to float upon the breeze. She replied that 'when that flag comes down it will all come down together.'

"The flag did not come down. Mrs. Evans remained at her window, in sight of the flag, during the balance of the day, with no other company than her little children and her husband's revolver, which she kept by her side. Still, she had the consolation of approval and encouragement in her spirited course from leading citizens of the town, who sent her word that they would fly to her assistance at the first shot. Mrs. Evans had heard the yell for Jeff. Davis from Price's raiders in 1864, and when she heard it repeated by the party now, she could not feel very kindly towards its members. It was a misfortune of this chivalrous 'crew' that she was of a soldier family—she having three brothers who were officers in the blue army, namely: Captain George, Lieutenant Henry and Major Andy Treece."

Garibaldi's Resignation.

The Florence correspondent of the Debats says that the resignation of Garibaldi has caused but little sensation. "Garibaldi," he says, "lives alone in retirement at Caprera; he sees nobody, and is said to suffer considerably. As he does not appear in the chamber, it matters little whether he is or is not a member. Nothing indicates that he is meditating any sort of enterprise, and as his position as a deputy was a protection rather than a trouble to him, his resignation would appear to prove that he is really ill, and is withdrawing from the scene." The Italian journals do not, however, hold this view. The Movimento, of Genoa, says that General Garibaldi has resigned because he feels that the Opposition is powerless for good, as it can merely assist in the realization of the plans of a fallen Minister. The Gazetta d'Italia declares that the General considers the union of the men of Aspromonte and Mentana with those who fired on him and twice made him prisoner as an act of political immorality, and that his resignation is a manifest vote of want of confidence in the party.

Opening of the Tomb of William Rufus.

The tomb of William Rufus, in Winchester Cathedral, England, was opened a fortnight ago. The London Telegraph says:

"From their first hasty grave William's remains were, at some time unknown, removed to a sarcophagus near the altar. This sarcophagus occupies an inconvenient situation; and the dean and chapter were desirous, if they found that the sarcophagus contained no human relics, to remove it to another site. The doubt whether it held the dust of Rufus dated from the disturbance of the cathedral tombs by the Parliamentary soldiers, who used the bones of the dead to break the painted windows. At the Restoration the remains thus violated were collected into six chests, ranged on either side of the altar; and one of these actually bore an inscription to the effect that William's remains were there contained. It the sarcophagus had been sacked in 1642, and the frail contents mingled with the ashes of an inferior yet illustrious crowd in the six mortuary chests, there seemed no reason why the obstacle should not be removed from the choir; and this was what the cathedral authorities designed. But the sarcophagus was not empty; it disclosed to the sight of the exploring surgeons a nearly perfect male skeleton, presenting evidences of a previous removal, the remnants of some insignia of authority, and, as one account states, even the remains of the fatal arrow. The skeleton is 'fully believed' to be that of William Rufus; and the relics, after accurate memoranda had been made, were reverently restored to the sarcophagus, whence they are not likely to be removed.

Styptic Paper,

Perchloripe of Iron, or Monsell's salts, has for some years been well known as an effective agent in causing the stoppage of the flow of blood from wounds. It is very inconvenient to carry a bottle of this substance on the person, however; a method has recently been discovered of preparing paper with perchloride of iron, which is said to retain the styptic qualities of the salt. The paper is first dipped in a solution made of one pound of gum benzoin, one pound of rock alum and four and one-third gallons of water This mixture is placed in a vessel, carefully tinned inside and heated up to the boiling point; the solution is to be kept boiling for four hours and skimmed from time to time. The water evaporated is to be replaced by the same quantity of fresh water, and, as soon as the solution is cooled, it is to be filtered off. The paper or tissue is then dipped into it, and kept there until sufficiently saturated, and is then carefully dried. When dry a solution of the perchloride, in a concentrated state, it applied by a brush or roller. The paper or tissue thus prepared is folded up and preserved from the action of the air by wrapping it in a piece of oiled silk, prepared with the addition of resinous substances, and in this manner it can be preserved any length of time always ready for use. Its application to small wounds will stop the bleeding almost instantly.

PARIS CAPRICE, a very spicy Paris journal, pays its respects to the New York Revolution, and presents to its consideration half a column of aphorisms on woman by some of the best French thinkers. Among them is one by Proudhon, the famous political economist: "Emancipated women! they make me shudder; tell your frtend that good women should, above all things, take pains to make good soup and mend the stockings of their husbands." Alfred de Vigny expressed about the same idea in a somewhat seraphic style: "My ideal woman must be good, sweet and useful." Alfred de Musset wrote to Alphonse Karr: "All I ask of a woman is to be beautiful." "Paris Caprice" says: "Our ideal woman must also be good, sweet and useful. As for emancipated women, we insist that any member of the fair sex who occupies herself with political economy should be shot."

NO MORE HANKERING FOR TOBACCO AFTER USING ORTON'S PREPARATION! RECOLLECT IT IS WARRANTED. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]

BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I won d recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.

W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.

E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.]

BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a dizziness in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not in the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

700 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. 160 miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office, in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost.

The Company believe that these Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest in the market, and reserve the right to advance the price at any time.

Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;

HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;

S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;

PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;

ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

Police News was remarkably dull yesterday.

The Grecian Bend has made its appearance on our streets.

The Nicolson pavement on Market street is being rapidly laid down.

The County Jail contains about one hundred and fifty persons at the present time.

The Neptune Fire Company intend having a terpsichorean entertainment in the Rink pretty soon.

Managers of the different skating parks are thinking about putting them in order for the winter campaign.

The First Ward Grant Club will meet to-night at Headquarters, corner of Market street and Second avenue.

The Allegheny County Tanner Club will meet at City Hall to-night in full uniform, at seven o'clock sharp, for procession.

Yesterday was celebrated by the Jews as New Years. It was to them the first day of the year 5629. It was very generally observed.

The Political Campaign is becoming very active in this vicinity. There is a great deal of talk, but there is also a great deal of work going on.

Different Persons.—By a coincidence two Samuel McKains appeared in the Court Reports of yesterday's GAZETTE. They were different persons.

The approaching Republican Convention promises to be one of the most imposing political demonstrations of the kind ever witnessed in this vicinity.

The Grant Hussars, including company "A," will meet to-night for business at City Hall at half-past seven o'clock. The meeting is very important and all should attend.

The Seventh and Eighth Wards Grant and Colfax Club will hold an important meeting this (Friday) evening, when every member of the Club is requested to be present.

Selling Liquor Without License.—Margaret Cunningham alleges a Mr. Canol is in the habit of selling liquor without license, contrary to law. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for the arrest of the accused.

The retail coal dealers are looking up and considering the question of an advance in the price of that article. The cold weather for the past few days has created a demand and a demand regulates the price.

Notice.—Charles Lenox Remond, Esq., the distinguished colored orator of Boston, will speak in the A. M. E. Church, corner of Wylie and Elm streets, this evening at eight o'clock. Citizens generally are invited to attend.

Young Men's Christian Association.—There will be an adjourned meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association held in the Rooms No. 23 Fifth street, at 7½ o'clock Saturday evening, the 19th inst. A full attendance of the members is desired as business of absorbing interest and vital importance to the Association is to be considered.

Still Burning.—The fire at the abutment of the railroad bridge over the Monongahela river, and under the lower end of Try street, is still burning. The abutment of the bridge will evidently have to be torn down, but the bridge will be in no way affected, as it is not connected with the abutment proper, but only extends to the pier which the abutment is built against.

Meeting of Soldiers and Sailors.—The soldiers and sailors of Allegheny county will hold a meeting at City Hall, Saturday, 19th inst., at 3 P. M., to make arrangements for attending the Soldiers and Sailors Mass Convention at Philadelphia October 1st and 2d. A special train will be provided and excursion tickets issued to all who desire to attend the Philadelphia Convention.

Severe Fall.—An old lady named Harris, was seriously injured yesterday, while walking up Wylie street. She was endeavoring to pass around the outside of some dry goods boxes which obstructed the pavement, and in doing so fell into the gutter, sustaining various bruises in the side and other parts of her body, besides severe internal injuries. She is at present lying at her home and receiving medical attention.

Severe Accident.—Wednesday evening a drunken man endeavored to get upon a car of the Birmingham Passenger Railroad on Smithfield street, but missed his footing and fell with one arm under the wheels, which passed over, lacerating it considerably but breaking no bones. The injured man was taken on board and conveyed to the office of a physician, where his wound received the proper medical attention.

The Fair.—The work of repairing the Fair Grounds for the annual exhibition has been commenced, and is being pushed forward rapidly. Should the weather prove favorable, the display on the occasion will be of increased interest. Active preparations are going on throughout the county, and the indications are that the affair will be a complete success, at least so far as the exhition goes.

Procession To-Night.—It is arranged for a grand procession to-night of the various Grant Clubs of the different wards to attend in a body the mass meeting to be held in Manchester. We believe the Tanners will also be out in full force. The companies will form at headquarters of the Second Ward Club, Wilkins Hall, on Fourth street, shortly after six o'clock. As all are invited to participate, we hope there will be a very general turnout.

A Company of mounted men, organized for the "Grant Hussars" met last evening and unanimously elected Capt. J. S. Schoonmaker, Captain; Capt. Alex. McCallum, First Lieutenant; Capt. D. M. Howe, Jr., Second Lieutenant, and Andrew Mackey, Jr., Second Lieutenant. The company numbers eighty odd of the first young men of the county, and promises to present at the grand Convention to be held on the 23d and 24th inst., an appearance creditable to the banner county.

Passed Through.—Last evening Schuyler Colfax and Benjamin F. Wade, two well-known citizens of the United States, passed through this city, taking tea at the Union Depot Hotel, and leaving for Washington viq Harrisburg, at half-past seven o'clock. They were called upon by a number of citizens anxious to pay their respects; but had due notice of their expected arrival been given, fully twenty thousand persons would have assembled at the depot to bid them welcome to the city.

Runaway Accident.

Yesterday morning, about eleven o'clock, as Mr. Andrew Milligan, accompanied by his wife and daughter, was driving along Ohio street in a carriage the horse attached to the vehicle became frightened and unmanageable. He had gone but a short distance when the carriage upset. Fortunately the body of the vehicle became separated from the wheels and remained near where the upset occurred. The frightened animal proceeded on his mad gallop for some distance but was finally captured and brought back. The carriage was badly broken and smashed, and the horse sustained severe bruises, but beyond this no further injury was done.

Confidence Game.

The latest sensation in the way of confidence games transpired in this city during the present week. A young woman, who, like all other confidence operators, is a stranger in the city, a few days since succeeded in gaining the confidence of a prominent young gentleman in the city, and after inducing him to go with her to a house of ill fame, attempted to extort money from him by prosecuting him for rape. The deluded young man was arrested and gave bail for a hearing, which took place yesterday. In the course of the hearing it transpired from the testimony of the prosecutrix that the man was the victim. That she had previously been at the house referred to and made arrangements for the second visit. The Alderman, before whom the information was made, after hearing the testimony of the prosecuting witnesses, discharged the accused and dismissed the case at the cost of the prosecutrix.

Not having succeeded in this operation, the energetic operator, whose perseverance appears to be her particular forte, sought to gain in another direction what she had failed to obtain from her first victim, and to a certain extent succeeded. She appeared before the Mayor and made information charging the woman who kept the house, where she had taken the young man, with keeping a bawdy house. The accused was arrested and the case compromised by the payment of ten dollars to the confidence woman by the proprietress of the bagnio.

Audacious Attempt.

Yesterday afternoon the driver of a one horse wagon left his vehicle in front of a grocery store on Liberty street while he went inside the establishment to transact some business. Coming out in a few minutes he found the horse and vehicle missing, and on looking down the street he saw them in charge of a man who was hurrying off as fast as the horse could travel. He immediately raised an alarm and started after the thief, followed by several policemen and a large crowd of people. The retreating thief turned down St. Clair street and from that to Duquesne Way, still continuing the rapidity of his flight and followed by the crowd. At last a flank movement was made by the pursuing party, heading off the runaway as he was returning from the Point by way of a secluded cross street. The thief, however, finding himself foiled, jumped from the vehicle and disappeared. The owner of the turnout was glad enough to get his property back, and made no further exertions to catch the bold operator. The affair occasioned considerable excitement in the vicinity, but when the result was known it quickly calmed down. For audacious impudence and reckless daring, the operation was certainly an unusually conspicuous one, and almost terminated with success.

Re-Arrested.

The two men arrested by officer Irwin on suspicion that they were the parties who had perpetrated the robbery at the National Trust Company's banking house, an account of which we published several days since, as we stated yesterday, were discharged. Yesterday morning officer Gumbert made another information, charging them with the same offence, and re-arrested them at the Rush House. They were taken to the Mayor's office, and after a hearing His Honor committed Daniel Burns for a further hearing, and Thomas Mulligan was committed for two days, at the expiration of which, if there is no further reason for his detention than now appears, he will be discharged. One of the witnesses examined testified that he was just entering the bank when the men who had stolen the money were running out, and from the appearance of Burns he believed he was one of the men, but he would not say positively that he was. The man answers precisely the description the witness gave of the one whom he met in the door of the bank, although the description was given before the arrest of the suspected parties.

Alleged Outrage.

Isabella Scahill relates a story which in substance is as follows: She resides in Lawrenceville, and on Wednesday evening started out in company with a male friend to take a walk. They had not proceeded far when an acquaintance of her companion joined them and was introduced as Mr. Kelley. Soon after the friend with whom she had started out excused himself and left her in charge of Kelley. The two continued the walk, turning off from Butler street toward the Allegheny river. Reaching the track of the Allegheny Valley Railroad they walked along it a short distance when, on arriving at a secluded spot, Kelley made indecent proposals to her which she indignantly spurned, and endeavored to get away, but he detained her, and by force succeeded in accomplishing his villanous design, after which he fled. she made her way home and yesterday made information before Alderman McMasters against Kelley for rape. Kelley, it is said, is employed at the United States Arsenal at Lawrenceville, to which place an officer proceeded with a warrant for the arrest of the alleged criminal.

School Directors Nominated.

A meeting of the Republican citizens of the Seventh ward, Pittsburgh, was held last evening in the School House on Franklin street, for the purpose of nominating three additional School Directors, made necessary by the division of the old Sixth ward into two wards. Alderman Joseph A. Butler was called to the Chair, and Earl S. Gardner, Esq., chosen Secretary.

On motion, it was resolved to vote by ballot, the gentleman receiving the highest vote to be nominated for three years, the next highest for two years, and the third for one year.

Messrs. Charles Jeremy and Thomas Roberts were appointed Inspectors.

The balloting resulted in the nomination of the following gentlemen: John D. McFarland, three years; William Floyd, two years; A. J. Lee, one year.

Mr. Jacob Zeiger was nominated at a former election, which completes the Board.

Repairing.

The members of the Independence Fire Company, at their own expense, are hard at work putting their Engine House in repair. The front of the building and the inside walls and wood work are to be handsomely repainted. French plate glass will be put in the doors, and the interior handsomely fitted up with all the modern appliances and furniture pertaining to a first class engine house. The members seemed determined to spare no pains in making their establishment look as well as any of its neighbors, and from present indications they will undoubtedly succeed in their laudable enterprise.

The Weather—Provide Against Sickness.—The cold, chilly weather which has set in warns all persons to lay aside the light clothing of summer and to don heavier garbs, for colds, feyers and other diseases will follow in disregard of these precautions. Those wishing to supply themselves with flannels, heavy dress goods and everything in the dry goods line, suitable for fall and winter wear, will find a splendid fresh stock just opened at R. Deakers, corner of Fifth Avenue and Grant street, opposite the Cathedral. His prices are down to the very lowest possible figures, and satisfaction is guaranteed to all patrons.

The Oil Trade.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE: The Eastern circulars received to-day, showing the condition of the markets up to Saturday, 12th inst., give us the following indications for the fall trade:

The stock of refined oil in Philadelphia, including that already on board vessels, is just about equal to the tonnage engaged.

Some two weeks will be required to load and clear this stock out of the markets. In the mean time the shipments from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia average 3,000 barrels per day, or 90,000 barrels per month.

We find also that the clearances for the last six days amount to nearly 2,000,000 (two million) gallons, or 50,000 (fifty thousand) barrels of oil.

We find also that we have exported this year 69,000,000 (sixty-nine million) gallons, against 41,500,000 (forty-one million five hundred thousand) last year, up to this time, or about 66 (sixty-six) per cent. more oil has gone out of the country this year than last year, up to this date. After seeing these facts, let us imagine what has become of this great excess of oil. Has it been consumed? thereby making further shipments a necessity, or is it still on hand in Europe, awaiting a market.

From our foreign circulars just received, and from foreign correspondence, deemed reliable by the writer of this, as it consists of letters written from one merchant to another, we find first: that the stock on hand in Antwerp is forty thousand barrels in excess of stock there same time last year, whilst her "expeditious" (shipments to the interior) are only four thousand barrels per week, against six thousand same date last year.

Second, Stock in Marseilles twenty thousand barrels in excess of last year, which for this port is perfectly tremendous.

Third. Stock in Bremen is difficult to ascertain, but all accounts agree in naming it as unprecedentedly large, so much so that it is impossible any longer to get insurance on oil.

Bremen is doing a larger business than formerly, but not sufficiently so, in the judgment of the writer, to use up the large excess of stock. Last year the trade of this city was largely made up of orders from the Mediterranean, but our advices this year agree that the stocks through all Southern Europe are largely in excess, and some think that this part of Europe has sufficient refined oil to last during this and the next season. We are inclined to believe this, because we find "no orders in the market now for any of these ports."

The shipments for the past week or two have been mainly on English account, very few orders having been received from Continental Europe, and the demand for the former is now filled.

These facts argue strongly against any permanent advance in the price of oil. The fact appears to be that during the first part of the year we had an advancing market, and the shipments to all ports were largely in excess of the actual demand for consumption. Now, the stocks being everywhere larger than the trade requires, the consequence is, there are almost literally no orders for further shipments and prices are tumbling rapidly. Add to this the fact now established, and admitted by all informed dealers, that the production is fully thirteen thousand barrels per day and still increasing, and the problem of prices of petroleum for 1868 is easily solved. On the other hand the bulls are not yet all dead, and intend even yet to make a desperate effort some time and in some way to revive the present drooping market, in order to get rid of their high priced contracts.

In what way they intend to do this it is hard to guess; but that the effort will be made, is as sure as fate. But they will fail in the end. During the last of September or the first of October, the writer expects to hear the first outcroppings of this last movement, and would not be surprised to find the markets temporarily firmer, but there is no good reason for any advance, and no reason why there should not be a steady and permanent decline from this time on till the end of the season.

The great trouble in the way, is for the bulls to unload, as there is no one willing to buy. The exporters are out of the market and the figures are too high for speculators to take hold. This being the case, we may reasonably expect to see a continuation of the present break, interrupted probably by spasmodic efforts to give tone to the market, and in the end find ourselves buying oil at twenty-five cents per gallon for refined in Philadelphia, and seven to eight cents for crude in Pittsburgh.

INDEX.

An Offering Worthy of Appollo.

He hangs out long without regard to price,
With Ipse dixets, flavored awful nice,
As if by sheer design he catch'd
The itch, on purpose to be scratched.

Notoriety is the next best thing to celebrity; the difference is, the one is evanescent, the other immortal; one is marketable, the other priceless; one serves for fools, the other for the wise. Either has its province, to deck the brow of worth the one to bare the aim of knaves the other. Argument on hypothesis alone is as idle as legitimate reasoning is ineffective on narrow and imbecile minds, and there is no surer evidence of the absence of proof, in a discussion or controversy, than an offer to bet; in fact it is an old maxim that "betting is a fool's argument." Wherever a man makes money, the convincing power, his subject and resources of argument are exhausted, and this was, in truth, the point reached by the nondescript agent of the Weed Sewing Machine, when he offered to venture one hundred machines on an issue that had no existence in law—nothing but a newspaper war, wherein words are cheap and abuse Pickwickian, the aim of which, unquestionably, was to get an old established house to kick into notoriety a new and remote one, situated in a remote and out of the way part of the business portion of the city. This is the view that the general reader will take of it, whether it was so intended or not. The fact, however, acknowledged by this singularly energetic agent, that we keep at our door one of his machines, only goes to show how little we fear its comparison, in close proximity, with our own; but he should have added the placard we keep on it to explain the matter properly, and that it was exchanged to us at a discount of twenty-five dollars, (which, by the way, was never paid by Miss Watson,) solely because it would not perform its vaunted functions. The original card and the numberless ones since, would warrant us in the belief that this ambitious meddler has an inordinate itching for notoriety—that he has broken out with a tingling disease which he would some one would scratch; but we protest 'gainst such dirty work. It might be the means of producing pleasant sensations in him, but as we are free from any loathsome disease and a reciprocal action would therefore avail us nothing, we decline further contact, believing that we cannot cope with filth without getting befouled.

CARSON BROS.

Political Wagers.

Yesterday the Democracy obtained from some mysterious source the intelligence that Maine would not give more than seventeen thousand majority. This inspired the Democrats somewhat, and their money was readily offered in wagers on the result not being over seventeen thousand. Their baits, we need not say, were readily taken by the Republicans. Later in the day the news from Maine confirmed the majority as "over 20,000," and betting again became spirited, the Republicans this time being the offerers on the latter figures. Probably during the day fully twenty thousand dollars were staked on the majority in Maine, the wages varying from fifteen up to twenty thousand majority. We are quite confident that many Democrats will feel sore in pocket when the actual figures are made known.

"What Cometh Out of the Mouth Defileth the Man."

Those gentlemen, the Carson Brothers, having ingloriously failed to make good their published assertions, some one over their signature next indulges in a public exhibition of personal vituperation culminating in total obscenity, which must still further exalt them in the public estimation. "To such base uses do we come at last." Epithets are the resort of some people when all else fails, and we leave them in the enjoyment of the notoriety which such an article may afford, grateful as ever for the opportunity given us of vindicating ourselves and the machine which we have the honor to represent at 112 Grant street.

Will the public read a little more evidence from others concerning the great controversy?

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17, 1868.

I wish to say that the statements of Messrs. Carson Bros. in regard to myself, published in yesterday morning's Dispatch are incorrect. It was the "Empire" and "Wilcox & Gibb" which would not do my work—(not the Weed.) I have no more to say concerning their refusal to return me the Weed or their repeated perversions of the facts as originally stated by me. I am a defenceless woman and shrink from such a controversy. I will say, however, that I have secured another "Weed," and nothing could persuade me to exchange it for all the Empire and Wilcox & Gibbs' machines that were ever made.

MRS. AGNES A. WATSON,
Cor. Green st. and Centre ave.

ALLEGHENY, September 17, 1868.

We were first persuaded to try a "Wilcox & Gibbs" Sewing Machine. It did not answer the purpose, and an "Empire" was substituted for it from the Agency in Pittsburgh. This failing to satisfy, another "Empire" was bought. Still unsuccessful, the third "Empire" came and no better than the first. The Weed Agent happening along, we purchased one of him, which gives the fullest satisfaction, and we cheerfully recommend it to all wishing such an article. Capt. CONRAD EBERHARDT,
Troy Hill, Allegheny.

ALLEGHENY, Sept. 17, 1868.

I had an "Empire" machine, but it not answering my purpose, I exchanged it for a "Weed," which is everything that can be desired in a sewing machine.

MRS. E. A. LEMON,
No. 31 North alley.

I also had an Empire and was compelled to exchange it for a Weed.

"MORE ANON."

Small Favors Thankfully Received—But no Guns Fired.

Thankful that the Maine majority was not fifty thousand, the Democrats arranged to fire several hundred guns last night at the Monongahela wharf in honor of the victory their neighbors obtained. The Secretary of War was telegraphed for guns; he complied, willing that the party should have an all day's honor in sporting with a war toy, entirely new to them—at least to those in this section of the country. Horses were procured and in imitation of "experienced artillerists" dashed out to the Allegheny Arsenal, presented the order to the commandant and received the artillery. With much pomp and show and an occasional cheer for Seymour and Blair, in order to assure the people along the line of march that some folks can do things as well as others, the squad moved to a livery stable, on Diamond alley, and there unhitched, awaiting the darkness of night to fire the salute. Night came, but, unfortunately for them, with it a dampening dispatch from Maine which fixed the majority much nearer fifty thousand than they imagined. A consultation was held. The powder cost money; nobody present had ever assisted in the firing of a cannon; those experienced artillerists, Captains Cook, Floyd and Collier, had refused to accept duty in that camp, and, after all, Maine was'nt such a great State that they should risk their precious lives in honoring her for doing just what they did'nt want her to do by a long shot. After such reasoning the guns were left untouched, and will be sent back as guiltless of powder as when taken from the Arsenal by our Democratic friends. When will the opposition ever be able to fire a salute in honor of a victory obtained? Planchette answers: "Never in this campaign."

A Public Speaker made a good hit at a Birmingham meeting the other night in suggesting that the Freedmen's Bureau wasn't half so good for keeping clothing as one of the trunks turned out by the Premium Trunk Factory of Joseph Liebler, No. 104 Wood street. Politicians may be divided as to the good qualities of the Freedmen's Bureau, but they all agree that Liebler's trunks are eminently worthy the fame they enjoy. Call in and satisfy yourself on this point.

Original Red Front Tea Wareho

The undersigned would respectfully call the a tion of buyers of Teas to the inconsistent and statements made by the

BOCUS TEA COMPANI

Of the present day. Men with scarcely suffi knowledge of Tea to distinguish Black from G are advertising themselves as the Great Tea panies of the country, and claim to sell the Teas at from 80c. to $1.25 per lb. More appa falsehood and misrepresentation was never ished.

To prove the outrageous nature of such cir is only necessary to refer to published repo daily Auction Sales of Teas, by the cargo, great market of New York, at which fine Teas not be bought for less than from $1.50 to $ per lb.

Another active means of fraud in Tea Stores giving SHORT WEIGHT instead of

In this way many buyers are misled into th lief that they are purchasing goods at a reaso cost, when, in fact, they are, by these means, died into paying excessive prices.
